Discouraged by illness and loss of em ployment, Barnett Goldman, fifty-three rears old, of 160 East One Hundred and Eighth street, committed suicide at 2.30 artery in his left wrist, and subsequent ly jumping from a window of the third floor of the house where he lived to the

Goldman had two grown-up sons and been married next month. The father had been unemployed for six months, and was behind in his rent. His inbillty to give his daughter a fine wedding also weighed heavily upon his nind. He complained of the heat yesterday, but gave no indication of determination to kill himself.

Policeman James F. Hannon and R. Raphael, of 158 East One Hundred and Sixth street, were passing 160 East On Hundred and Eighth street at 8.30 o'clock this morning, when the policeman's attention was attracted by what looked to ing trial for murder, having pleaded guilty, was found hanging to the window of his cell a rope which he had secured and wound abid in neck. On the sill were bloody finger ints. It looked as though he found the process of bleeding to death was too and painful, and, after cutting himself, he walked through the where his family were asleep and made the window. Judging from the amoun of blood on the floors, Mr. Goldman must have been nearly dead before he

It was said by neighbors that Goldman had been out of employment some time, and quarrels with his wife time, and quarrels with his wife and family were of almost nightly occur rence. It was said also that his wifthreatened recently to move from the house and leave her husband to take of himself. The family retired about 11 o'clock.

Mrs. Goldman, upon learning of he husband's tragic death, became pros trated, and it is feared by the family physician, who is in attendance, that e may not survive the shock.

GUTMAN WILL NOT DIE.

Will Answer in Court To-Day for Attempting Suicide.

Leonard E. Gutman, who attempted suicide while driving through Central Park in a cab last night in company with a woman who says she is Bella Allen, will be able, so the physicians at the Presbyterian Hospital say, to appear in Yorkville Police Court this afternoon to answer for his misdemeanor. There is as yet no explanation for Gutman's act.

Miss Allen, who was detained at the East Sixty-seventh street station last night as a witness, was brought before Magistrate Kudlich in Yorkville Court this morning by a policeman from Capt. Strauss's station, who asked the Magistrate to remand the woman as a witness. Magistrate Kudlich said he had no power to hold the woman, and told her to go home, get a good sleep and return to court again at 2 o'clock. Miss Allen made but a brief statement to the Magistrate and was not asked to go into details concerning the circumstances that led up to the shooting. She said she had only known Gutman a said she had only known Gutman a short time, and had no idea why he should try to take his own life.

An "Evening World" reporter talked with Miss Bertha Leonard, who formed one of the party of four, who dined at the Central Park Casino last night previous to the shooting. Miss Leonard, who is a handsome brunette and possersed of an overflow of good spirits, was more communicative than Miss Allen.

from the police of St. Louis, where he is wanted on a similar charge.
Detective McGrath, of St. Louis, swore to the identity of "Sam," and said he was a well-known character both in Kansas City and St. Louis, Decision was reserved.

THE KENSINGTON HERE.

nother Vessel Added to the Nev York End of American Line. At midnight a steamship showing sigsals of the American line passed in at Sandy Hook. The vessel is without loubt the Kensington, which left the belaware Breakwater vesterday bound from Philadelphia for New York. Owing to the shallowness of the Dela-ware River, the Kensington will here-after run between New York and Ant-

The American liner Southwark cecently transferred to the New service for the same reason.
